

MEDICINE AND ART HISTORY II (PHASE 5)

AIM(S)

1	In this course, it is aimed that students can diagnose diseases by examining medical tables, develop a clinical perspective and raise awareness about the patient-physician relationship.
----------	---

LEARNING OBJECTIVE(S)

1	To be able to develop the ability to make observations by analyzing physician-patient and physician-physician relations from tables.
2	To be able to develop clinical perspective by diagnosing diseases from tables.
3	To be able to develop a cultural perspective in the field of painting by comprehending the content of the paintings and examining the lives of the artists.
4	To be able to develop observation, presentation, and oral communication skills.

INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOME(S)

1	Can develop the ability to make observations by analyzing physician-patient and physician-physician relations from tables.
2	Can develop clinical perspective by diagnosing diseases from tables.
3	Can develop a cultural perspective in the field of painting by comprehending the content of the paintings and examining the lives of the artists.
4	Can develop observation, presentation, and oral communication skills.